

How much time would you prefer to spend preparing your food compared to what you are currently spending?

What is your preferred way of acquiring a meal?

Rank the following factors of food experience from most important to least important.

Who do you prefer to eat your meals with?

Rank the following factors of food experience from most important to least important.

Data is based on 42
respondents